1 Dead, 3 Hurt in Crash Enroute Wedding Party

The father of a Mokena woman was killed, and she, her husband and her mother injured as a result of a two-car collision in Cleveland, Ohio last Saturday as the party was enroute from a church wedding to a breakfast and reception.

Mrs. Betty Nelson, of Mokena, her infant son, Patrick, Frank Powers, 80, and her mother, Olga, 60, had driven to Cleveland last Friday to attend a wedding Saturday morning. Her husband Gerald Nelson, flew to the Ohio city Friday night.

The two families attended the wedding Saturday morning and were on their way to attend the wedding breakfast when the accident occurred.

Mr. Powers was killed. Mrs. Powers was severely bruised and suffered multiple cuts inside her mouth when her dentures were shattered. Sixteen stitches were required to close the cuts.

Gerald Nelson suffered a kidney injury and broken nose and Mrs. Nelson head injuries.

Mrs. Powers and the Nelsons are hospitalized.

The Nelsons son Patrick, who will be two years old in December, escaped injury.

The inquest was to have been held yesterday and the body of Mr. Powers will be sent to the Lain chapel at 2121 W. 95th St. today. Tentative arrangements were made to hold the funeral service tomorrow.

According to information given relatives at the hospital, the Nelsons and Mrs. Powers are not likely to be released for some days yet and will not be able to attend the funeral.

Search Chicago Area for Trace of Bank Bandits

Authorities are searching in the Chicago area for the two bandits, one a woman, who robbed the Citizens Bank of Hebron, and then fled, taking the cashier, Robert S. McGinley, 54, with them as hostage.

McGinley leaped out of the car—incidentally it was his own—when the male bandit who was driving slowed down to get around a pipeline-walker's truck on Peiffer rd. near the Michigan Central tracks about a mile east of Frankfort.

The bandits went on and later abandoned the car at Mattoon. It was believed that the pair took a train from there, probably to Chicago altho the possibility they may have gone south was not ruled out. They have the funds with which to travel as the bank robbery netted approximately $3,200. They could have had more but would have had to wait until the time clock released on the other vault. That would have been at 9 o'clock and the thieves feared to wait that long.

As it was the bandits fled after the door on the first vault was opened at 8 a.m.

The bandit pair came to the McGinley home about 6:30 o'clock Friday night. The woman, described as an off-blonde between 20 and 25, five feet three inches tall, around 145 pounds, and wearing a pink blouse and dark blue skirt, was in the lead and asked for Mrs. McGinley. When Mr. McGinley, who had answered the door, invited them in he found himself

Build Portable Stage at L-W

As a joint project of the Dramatics club and the Phi-Chem association of Lincoln-Way, the students constructed a stage to be used in the gymnasium for the play Nov. 4 and 5 and for the Phi-Chem Association's magic show on Dec. 3.

The stage is 30 ft. long and 20 ft. deep. It has a 10 by 10 ft. dressing room off each side and is 16 ft. high to allow adequate room for overhead lighting.

All construction has been done by the joint committees from the two clubs. A group of boys built the flats which bolt together to form the stage. A committee of girls cut and hemmed the cloth which was tacked to the frame. Everyone got in on the final acts of painting and dyeing the cloth and putting the stage together.

Footlights were constructed and overhead lights arranged by the electricians in the group. A considerable amount of special wiring was necessary to provide a sufficient number of circuits for the lights. Frank Goetsch supervised the wiring and setting up of the lights.

The stage can be used on the east side of the gymnasium until such time as our auditorium can be completed and used. The project has been under the supervision of Richard Koeley, sponsor of the Drama club, and Neil Hardy, advisor of the Phi-Chem association.

Sanitation Problems of Village Will be Discussed at Public Meeting in VFW Hall Tuesday

Seek Funds to Provide Special Schooling for Retarded Children

President Eisenhower has designated Nov. 13-23 as National Retarded Children's week and in Chicago $125,000 has been set as the minimum goal. Funds raised will be used to support existing schools and establish new ones.

Three per cent of the total school age children in Illinois are estimated to be mentally retarded and in need of special educational services, according to Edward I. Horwich, chairman of the Chicago and committee for National Retarded Children's week.

The 1952 school-age population in Illinois was 1,662,778 and of this number the U. S. office of education estimates almost 50,000 were mentally retarded, Horwich said, but added that other authorities in the field of mental health estimate as high as seven per cent may be mentally retarded, bringing the total to some 116,000 children in Illinois in need of special care.

The Chicago and committee of the National Association for Retarded Children is made up of 21 groups of parents in Cook, Will, Lake and DuPage counties, actively working to support and establish schools where retarded children may learn to help themselves in their daily lives and become useful members of society.

The Day at Tinley
In Tinley Park parents and friends of retarded youngsters attended a showing of the film, "Tuesday's Child," last night at the village hall, and plans are being made for a tag day in Tinley, Nov. 18.

Volunteer teachers are needed and anyone willing to serve in such capacity has been asked by the committee in charge to telephone KJL 2-4633.

There are 33 parent sponsored schools in Illinois, 17 of them in the Chicago area. Three hundred and nineteen youngsters attend these 17 schools.

It is said that until research into the causes and ultimate prevention of mental retardation can improve the situation three of every 100 children born are destined to be mentally retarded, regardless of economic status, race, color or religion.

"Children who are mentally retarded need special education now," Horwich said, and he pointed out that altho mental retardation means a subnormal intelligence and reduced capacity for learning, the mentally retarded can be trained or educated to the full extent of their capacities, which may sometimes include a near-normal way of life.

Joliet Plays a Part
Some excellent work in this special branch of education is being done in the Joliet grade school system in cooperation with state school authorities.

An estimated 4,800,000 children and adults in the United States are mentally retarded, according to N.A.R.C.

One out of every 1,000 of the total population is severely retarded, cannot walk, talk and has some physical handicap as well; about one of every 250 persons develops at less than half the rate of a normal child; and 25 of each 1,000 are retarded enough to need special education to prepare for adult living.

N.A.R.C. estimates show. They also estimate that about one per cent of the total population need life long care at home or in residence training centers.

All this, it was pointed out, shows the need of public aid and cooperation in getting the means to provide proper education for children so handicapped.

Home Ec. Group Elects Sandburg Teacher Officer

Mrs. Hilda Geuther, of Mokena, Homemaking teacher at Carl Sandburg High school was elected secretary treasurer for the teacher education section of the Illinois Vocational Home-making Teachers association during the annual fall meeting Nov. 3-4-5 in Chicago. This group is made up of college home economics department heads, resident teacher educators, off-campus supervising teachers and city supervisors who are directly concerned with the problems of improving the quality of teaching.

Mrs. Geuther, who is an off-campus supervising teacher for Illinois State Normal university, received her masters degree from the University of Illinois in home economics education. Senior students preparing to teach homemaking in Illinois come to Sandburg for nine weeks to observe and develop techniques for teaching. For two of the nine weeks the girls teach a full day schedule under the guidance and supervision of the critic teacher.

A discussion of Mokena's sanitation problems is to be conducted next Tuesday night, Nov. 15, in conjunction with a meeting of the Mokena Civic association. The meeting is to be held in the VFW hall on Wolf road and is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

The speaker will be Richard S. Nelle, an engineer with the state sanitary water board at Springfield. He is coming here Tuesday to confer with the Mokena survey committee appointed last summer by Mayor John Scrath to make a study of the sanitation situation, and will then speak at the Civic Association meeting. George H. Bills is the program chairman for the civic group.

All residents of Mokena are urged by the survey committee and the Civic association to hear Mr. Nelle whose subject will cover sanitary disposal systems for small communities.

Mr. Nelle is a practical man and those who attended a meeting at Joliet for a discussion of the Hickory creek problem remember him as the man with a down to earth question. Some Jolietian asked him what the state was going to do about Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox dumping sewage into Hickory creek. The state had been trying for years to get Joliet to do something about its pollution of Hickory creek and the waterway—now something is being done by Joliet to this end—and Mr. Nelle answered tersely.

"We are not hunting mice," he said, "when elephants are on the loose."

What Mr. Nelle may say now may be different. The state department of public health is finding too many "mice" can be a vexatious problem and is cracking down on the smaller communities that lack proper sanitation facilities.

Mokena is in need of a sewer system—practically everyone is agreed to that, it was pointed out, and the survey committee is working now on plans to remedy the situation.

They hope to gain considerable information from Mr. Nelle on the subject and a representative from a Chicago engineering firm is expected to be present to answer questions on costs. A question and answer period will follow the talk by Mr. Nelle.

New Lenox is also preparing to deal with its problems along this line. The village board there has taken steps to have a referendum called on a proposal to form a sanitary district.

Build Stage in Stages

A photographer taking pictures for the yearbook was on hand again Tuesday to complete the seniors and underclassmen who had been missed on his first visit. Most of the busy day was spent, though, in getting group pictures of clubs. Twenty-two organizations posed that day leaving about twelve more clubs for which another date must be set later.

Final sale of yearbooks was conducted Wednesday. At last report approximately 385 had been sold. A definite order will be placed soon with the company after which no extra copies may be secured. Last year over twenty students wanted copies after the books appeared in the spring but were disappointed as no extra copies were available. We hope that every student placed his order this fall so that no one will be disappointed next spring when he doesn't get a book.

FTA Open House

In observation of American education week, the Lincoln-Way Future Teachers held open house during the week of November 7-10. Anyone who had an interest in the school either as a parent or as a friend was invited to visit the school.

A reception committee of FTA members were on hand to greet the visitors, taking them to the classrooms of their sons and daughters. There they were privileged to see the classes actually in session through the eyes of the boys and girls.

FBLA Lists Speakers

The Nov. meeting of the Future Business Leaders was called to order by the president, Janice Johnson. She announced that at the next meeting an airline stewardess from TWA, Miss Betty Goldie, will be on hand to discuss the opportunities open to girls in her field and to answer questions about her career.

At the following meeting a representative from Sears, Roebuck & Co. in Joliet will be there to talk to the students about opportunities in retailing and store management.

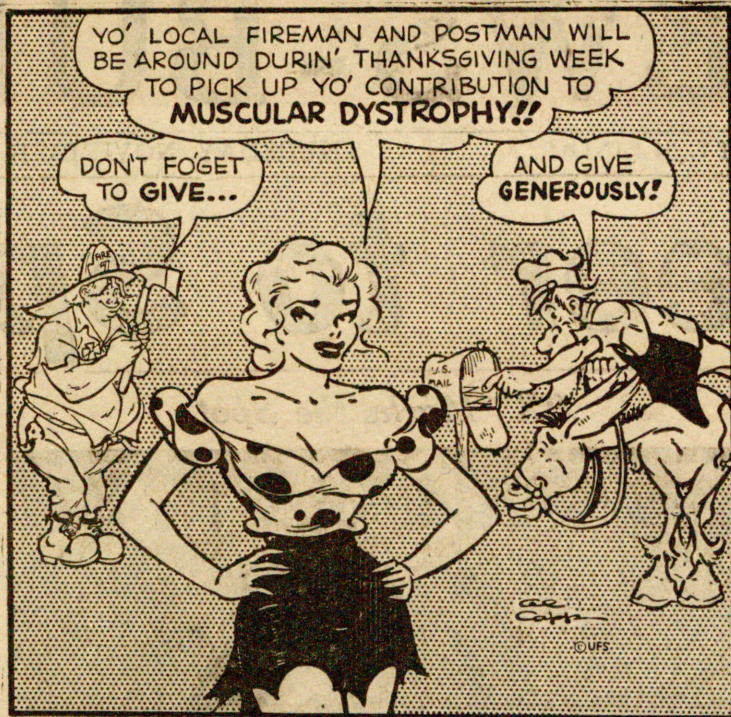

On Nov. 18 the club has scheduled a white elephant sale.

With the Christmas season approaching, club members have drawn names for their party gift exchange. A Christmas basket to be given to some needy family in the community is to be provided by the club.

Members of the Phi-Chem association are busy writing a Scream-Magic show. The authors are Marilyn Cooper and Bill Heidrich, acting as co-chairmen, with Ruth Heimerding, Karen Broekman, Dona Ullrich, Paul Landahl, Allan Mager and Bill Bolker.

Mr. Hardy, sponsor of the organization, and Mr. Keeley of the dramatics department, are acting as advisors.

The play is to be given Saturday, Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. This play will show some of the interesting and amusing things that can be done with chemistry. The setting is after school in the chemistry lab with the professor and his students. A few experiments are done but with all the excitement there are a number of unusual things happening including an explosion and the appearance of some mysterious figures resembling human beings.

Corn Yield

During the teachers workshop in August, Robert Van Rheeden, vo ag instructor, escorted the faculty on a tour of the FFA corn fields back of the school. At that time each teacher was given a slip of paper on which he was to estimate the low, average and highest yield per acre. Needless to say, many of the "contestants" had little idea of how many bushels of corn an acre of land is expected to produce. Guesses ranged all the way from 12 bushels per acre to 81.

Now the corn has been harvested and the true yield is known. The high was 61.4 bu. Earl Dicken's guess was nearest with 61 bu. The average was 40.6 bu. with Dr. Ralph Wright estimating 40. Dr. Wright and Mr. Chapman tied in guessing the low, each figuring 19, while final figures show the low to be 19.8.

Evidently there are some pretty good farmers on the staff. To save them embarrassment, we won't give the names of the persons who gave the wildest guesses.

Super Salesman

Mr. Sardiga one day gave a student in his retailing class 5c and asked him to double it. This was done by buying two pencils for a nickel and selling them for a nickel apiece. The dime earned was then handed to another student who was to double it in any way he could. The sum has grown already from the original nickel to two dollars, and it is hoped that it will reach $10 soon. Each student is certainly showing his salesmanship ability.

CHEERLEADERS' CLINIC

On Saturday, October 28, the cheerleaders of Lincoln-Way High School attended a cheerleaders' clinic at Illinois State Normal university, at Normal, Miss Barbara Sprayberry and Miss Rittenhouse furnished transportation for the girls. They left home at 5:45 a.m. and arrived at Normal at 9:00 a.m. On the way to Normal, the group stopped for breakfast and had a real feast.

After registration, the girls attended a lecture given by Mr. Herkimer. Mr. Herkimer, noted for his expert knowledge of cheering techniques, travels widely from state to state, working with clinics. He presented several of the different cheers he has gathered from the various parts of the country. Mr. Herkimer is a native of "the great state of Texas," as he calls it. Among the many things included in his talk were: sportsmanship, chants, some yells, rhythm, conducting of pep assemblies, handling a crowd, and the conduct of a cheerleader. Tumbling was also shown and how it can be used effectively in cheers.

Mrs. Pat Osborne and Miss Rose Meyer assisted Mr. Herkimer in the tumbling acts. After the lecture, leaders from different schools did their school cheers. The varsity squad performed K-N-I-G-H-T-S, for the crowd. Box lunches were then provided for the clinic guests, who numbered about 1,400. A mass cheer was then led by Mr. Herkimer in which each cheerleader took part.

At the same time the sponsors from the various schools met and discussed their problems and techniques.

The girls had intended to take part in the mass cheering for the football game between Normal and Lewis college, but because of the heavy rain, they did not stay for the game.

On the way home, all had a desire to eat again, so the group stopped at Braidwood. All had a wonderful time and learned many new things which they hope to put into practice soon.

Park Board

Swanberg reported that the area has been marked off where the Mokena Lions club is to build an ice skating rink. Harley Mann announced that the planting of the multiflora roses along the front boundary and the curve leading into the park has been completed. This will not only be scenic but also will serve as a barrier to protect the baseball diamond. It was explained.

The sign at the entrance is nearly finished, it was announced by Warren Manker, and will be in place before winter is here—officially that is. The grass planted last spring is doing well and there is no need for reseeding this fall, it was said.

Persons who have need of information concerning park activities of the past can obtain it from a scrap book maintained by Mrs. George Bills, who is in charge of publicity.

Board members present at the meeting this week were Mr. Swanberg, Mr. Hooley, Mr. and Mrs. T. Arthur Shoop, Mrs. Hugo Niethammer, Mr. Manker and Mrs. Bills.

CROP Organizes Campaign for Yule Donations

A meeting was held in the Marley church Monday evening to organize the drive for donations for the Christian Rural Overseas Program, CROP. James Tilsy, Mokena, county chairman, presided.

The Rev. Richard Rissen, Oswego, regional leader, addressed the gathering and explained the need and purpose of CROP. He showed a movie depicting CROP in action throughout the world. In 1954 CROP food gifts reached victims of floods and droughts in India, Pakistan, Austria, Germany and Italy; of earthquake victims in Greece and North Africa; of fire victims in Pusan and Hongkong refugee camps. He explained that CROP is operated by and for the churches in 35 protestant and Eastern Orthodox communities in 22 states. Gifts are solicited with the aid of state councils of churches and are carefully apportioned under church supervision overseas. CROP accepts any farm-grown commodity as a gift for direct shipment or conversion into other commodities, including surpluses.

At the meeting volunteer workers received supplies with which to use in the drive. Corn and beans are the accepted commodities in this area and this will be picked up by truck Nov. 28 and 29 and delivered to Wilson Center. Others giving cash donations, part of which will be used to ship the government surpluses.

This Sunday Nov. 13, is designated as CROP Sunday when churches will make mention of it from the pulpits. The week following, canvassers will visit farmers to solicit their gifts.

Wilbert Lauffer heads the drive in Mokena area, the Rev. Ben F. Day in Frankfort; James Tilsy, New Lenox and Bruce Anderson, Homer.

The candle light double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. Lach.

Bouquets of white mums formed the background as the candelabra were lighted by the ushers.

Evangeline Lach was the organist and Barbara Eichmen of Chicago, the soloist who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride escorted by her father was lovely in a white floor length gown, the bodice of velvet, skirt of three tiers of tulle lace appliqued with sequins and pearls. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of pearls and sequins. White Fuji mums formed the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor, Jean Kramer, sister of the bride, wore a honey gold velvet gown. Gail Kramer, also the bride's sister, and Esther Schroenrad of Chicago were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of hunters green velvet, of ballerina length. They carried bouquets of cocoa Fuji mums with gold leaves.

Illinois is a long way from being through as a profitable oil region. The Prairie State, which has produced some 1 1/2 billion barrels of oil, will probably be able to produce about that much more.

This finding is presented in a just-issued report entitled "Oil Resources and Possibilities in Illinois," by Dr. Alfred H. Bell, head of the oil and gas division of the state geological survey.

The report carries two maps. One, made by Dr. Bell in 1930, divides the state into areas of oil possibilities; the other, drawn this year, verifies the accuracy of the earlier analysis, and shows the basin oil fields discovered since 1937.

First Lady's Pumpkin Chiffon Pie Heads Congressional Club Recipes

In time for Thanksgiving and holiday festive menus is Mamie Doud Eisenhower's favorite recipe for pumpkin chiffon pie. The First Lady contributed her pet recipe to the 1955 edition of the Congressional Club Cookbook.

The club in Washington, D. C. is an organization of congressional wives and women legislators. Their cookbook just off the press boasts personally handwritten favorites of almost 400 wives of senators, representatives, Supreme Court justices and cabinet members and of women legislators.

The cookbook recipes cover every section of the United States, Hawaii and Alaska. Priced at $2.50 plus 25 cents for mailing, the cookbook may be ordered from the Congressional Club, 2001 New Hampshire Avenue, Washington, D. C.

Here is Mrs. Eisenhower's pumpkin chiffon pie contribution.

STATE CAPITOL REPORT

A case now before the state supreme court contesting the constitutionality of the new reapportionment law could throw the Illinois political situation into a tangled mess if it is successful.

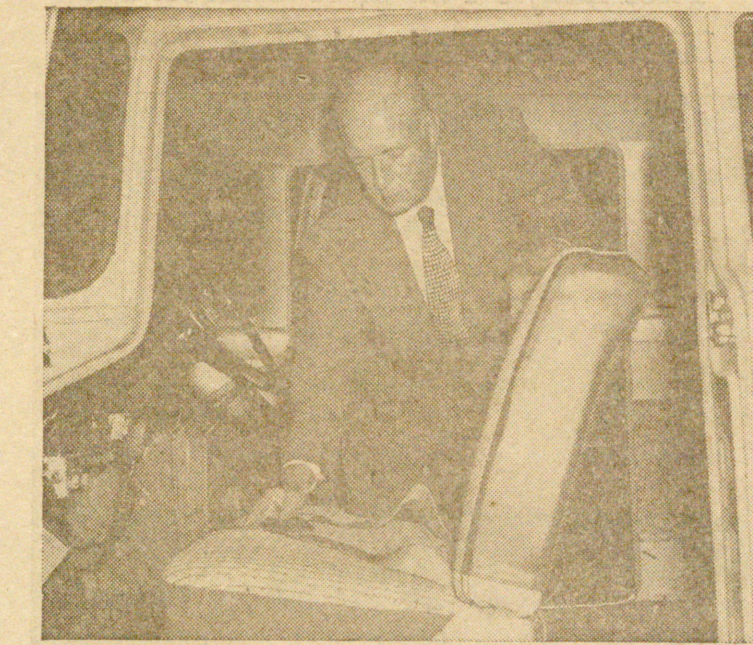

Edward V. Donovan of Chicago, a taxpayer, had filed a suit protesting the re-map law with the Cook county court. That court upheld the law. Now the suit is being appealed to the supreme court on the grounds that the Chicago senatorial districts are not uniform in area, as required by the constitution.

When the re-map bill was being drafted by the committees during the last session of the Illinois general assembly, those testifying pointed out that the proposed Chicago senatorial districts were not equal in area. At that time, the senators drafting the bill replied that while area was to be the "chief" consideration, population had to be considered also.

It was felt that things like a twenty story apartment house that didn't take up much room but held many people, had to be taken into consideration.

Now, it is not good form to speculate on pending supreme court decisions. I will not do so. But the time element involved, in case the law is declared unconstitutional, could confuse the Illinois political picture to the point where the only thing that would be certain would be the confusion.

For example, if a decision by the high court is not handed down until after the primary "Project Safety Belts" is now underway at various Northern Illinois Gas Company locations as approximately 350 of its vehicles are being equipped with this added safety measure. In photo, Joe Lambert, the utility's safety supervisor, examines a recently installed safety belt in one of the company's passenger cars. Both the driver and companion seats will be equipped with safety belts.

election this April, and if that decision is against the present law, what will be the legal position of the nominees? Most would have been nominated from the wrong districts by the wrong voters.

Then we would also have the case where certain senators had resigned their seats in cases where two incumbent senators with two more years to serve had been thrown into the same new district. Would their resignation be binding if we were returned to the old law, or could they continue to serve?

Finally, if the law were declared unconstitutional after the primary, a new election would be necessary and the scramble for seats under the old plan would start all over.

Altho the constitutional requirement for redistricting every ten years has been ignored for decades until last year, it seems unlikely that this could continue even if the supreme court throws out the new law. So the next session of the general assembly would be faced with the same re-mapping problem that was encountered last year.

The new law puts Will and DuPage counties together as a senatorial district and makes each of them a separate representative district.

This might seem confusing, but really it is quite simple. All you have to do is remember that DuPage county is part of the 41st senatorial district, the 36th representative district, the 14th of state police Phil M. Brown that their trucks must be equipped with turn signals and rear fender splash guards not later than Nov. 15.

Close enforcement of the law regulating speed of trucks on Illinois highways was also indicated by Brown.

Advices U.S. to Let Rest of World Solve Own Problems

A Northwestern university economist warns that the United States should avoid trying to impose its own standards upon technically backward nations which it seeks to aid.

"There is a real danger in assuming that economic development is a means of satisfying most, if not all of the aspirations held by men," said Harold F. Williamson, professor of economics and director of the Center for Social Research at Northwestern.

He spoke at a meeting of the Institute of World Affairs at St. Paul, Minn.

It is important for Americans to recognize that our objectives and attitudes are not necessarily those of other peoples, said Williamson, and that our ideas of what may be desirable for a particular country may not coincide with the aspirations of its inhabitants.

Just as what may be good for a certain automobile company may not be good for the country, he added, what may be good for the United States may not be good for the rest of the world.

Williamson said that answers as to whether the future prosperity of the United States depends on a Republican or Democratic administration, upon parity prices to farmers, guaranteed annual wages, or a particular tax system, are difficult enough. But these difficulties are compounded when we raise similar questions about economies other than our own.

A nationally-known expert on economic development, Williamson criticized various misconceptions about underdeveloped areas.

For example, he said, there is a widespread belief that the actual or potential capital resources of an underdeveloped country are inadequate for expansion.

Some persons, he said, ask how the people of an underdeveloped area can save a significant amount for expansion when average per capita incomes appear close to subsistence levels.

This overlooks the fact that in such areas there is typically a wide variation in income distribution, said Williamson, and that higher income receivers are quite able to save, and invest, amounts that in the aggregate are quite impressive.

Moreover, he added, an analysis of a Christmas gift market for a day, Booth Memorial hospital at 5040 N. Pulaski rd., will open its doors to holiday shoppers next Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 11 a.m.

The normally quiet recreation rooms and corridors will have numerous booths offering a wide assortment of gifts in the annual benefit sale. Proceeds will be used for needed hospital equipment.

Among the gifts to be offered will be ceramic and costume jewelry, hats, dresses, Christmas wrappings and ornaments, toys, books, candy and flowers.

The Home league will preside over a bakery shop featuring homemade cakes, cookies, pies, candy and bread. Members also are planning a snack bar during the noon hour and a silver tea from 2 to 4 p.m.

The league's booths will offer aprons, potholders, linens, guest towels, baby clothes, stoles, handkerchiefs and parcel post.

Smorgasbord, the top attraction at the bazaar, will be served from 4:30 to 8 p.m. in the hospital dining room. Since only a limited number of guests can be served, the Home league requests reservations be made by calling PA 1-545-6808 before Nov. 14.

The Salvation Army founded Booth Memorial hospital in 1895. It was moved to its present location in 1924. Now a 70-bed hospital, Booth Memorial has a 23-member staff and is affiliated with Illinois Research hospital. It is one of nine hospitals operated by the Salvation Army in the Midwest to care for unmarried mothers and their babies. Major Gladys Fredericksen is the superintendent.

State Orders Cut In Car Insurance Rates

An order of the state department of insurance brought a reduction in rates on automobile fire, theft and collision insurance in Illinois, effective Nov. 1, amounting to $4,050,231 annually, according to an announcement by Governor William G. Stratton.

The National Automobile Underwriters association has approved the reduction. Companies outside the N.A.U.A. usually follow rate changes adopted by the association companies. Should they do so in this instance, yearlings to holders of this type of insurance in Illinois will be approximately $6,750,000, Justin T. McCarthy, state insurance director, said.

Now that autumn is here, motorists are warned to be on the alert for haze and early dusk.

Warn Hunters of Tularema

Most Illinois cases of tularema, an infection which has been observed in wild fowl, quail and pheasant, are traced to the ordinary cottontail rabbit. The Illinois rabbit hunting season will be open Nov. 26 and run until Jan. 20.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, urges housewives, hunters, and persons who dress wild rabbits for market to be very careful in handling the game. Wearing rubber gloves gives some protection against infection. Tiny white spots on the spleen and liver of rabbits are an indication of infection with tularema. When this condition is noted in dressing, the carcass should be burned, and one's hands washed repeatedly with soap and water, and if possible with a disinfectant.

Sports News

by JACK MAYPOLE

Illinois hunter beware! You have been given two sets of "legal" hunting times for quail, cock pheasant, rabbits and the furbearers, raccoon, opossum and skunk.

One set of days and times appears in the digest of fish and game codes printed under authorization of the Illinois fish and game commission as of June, 1955.

Conflicting days and hours are printed on the back of your hunting license.

As of this writing we have been unable to determine which is the set for you to follow of who is responsible for the blunder. The situation is reported under investigation at Springfield but we urge you to check with your local game warden at once.

Here are the facts: For pheasant the digest states the hunting is from Nov. 11 to Nov. 30. The license open dates are from Nov. 11 to Nov. 25. Furthermore the digest states that only cock pheasant may be shot while on the license the game is defined simply as "pheasants" which, in our opinion, could mean open season on either cocks or hens.

For quail the digest sets open dates from Nov. 19 to Dec. 19. The license lists them as from Nov. 11 to Dec. 11.

Rabbits, the digest rules, may be hunted from Nov. 26 to Jan. 20. Yet the license authorizes rabbit hunting from Nov. 11 to Jan. 15.

According to the digest the season for hunting opossum, raccoon and skunk is from Nov. 1 to Jan. 15 in the northern zone and from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15 for the southern zone. On the license the time is the same as for the northern zone but no mention is made of the different time for the southern zone leaving a hunter to assume that the same open season dates apply throughout the state. No time for weasel hunting is listed on the license.

We do believe that this problem of conflicting dates must be corrected at once. Otherwise lots of hunters, especially those who depend on their licenses for the correct dates and times, are going to get into a major, statewide rhabar with the game wardens if the game wardens go by the digest.

The result easily could be a black eye for the state game commission and officials who have labored long and hard to improve public relations throughout Illinois.

As hunters and sportsmen we don't want this to happen. Let's get it straightened out now. (Here Jack Waypole over WJJD at 8:40 a.m. Monday thru Friday)

Healing Arts Group Honors Congresswoman

The healing arts, thru Illinois Interprofessional council, paid tribute this week to Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, member of the Illinois house of representatives from the 7th district. The affair was held in the Congress hotel Monday night.

The occasion was the third annual meeting of the council, which is composed of the Illinois State Medical society, the Illinois State Dental society, Illinois Optometric association, Illinois State Veterinary Medical association, Illinois Pharmaceutical association and Illinois Chiropractic society.

Mrs. Van der Vries has been active in promoting the health and welfare of the people of Illinois and was presented a plaque of appreciation from the component organizations. This was the council's first annual "Outstanding Citizen Award" for contribution to good health and good government in Illinois.

Ralph D. Barton, O.D., president of the council, made the presentation. James D. Majarakis, M.D., president and Edward A. Piszczek, M.D., was toastmaster.

Muscular Dystrophy Fund Drive Scheduled for Thanksgiving Week

November is observed as "Muscular Dystrophy Month." Highlight of the month-long observance will be a "March for Muscular Dystrophy" during Thanksgiving week, sponsored by the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

Thousands of volunteers will conduct a house-to-house canvass in the five days beginning Nov. 21, seeking funds to finance the fight against muscular dystrophy thru extensive research and patient-services.

Funds raised by the MDAAs are being used in part to build a $3,000,000 muscle research center in New York to study muscular dystrophy and allied muscular diseases.

James A. Farley, former postmaster general, is honorary national chairman of M.D.A.A.

Mrs. Lou Gehrig, widow of the famed New York Yankee first baseman who died of a disease closely akin to muscular dystrophy, is national campaign chairwoman.

looking into the muzzle of two pistols, one held by each of his visitors.

The bandits remained at the McGinley home for an hour, watching television, but a couple of telephone calls made them nervous so they ordered the McGinleys to don coats and get into the rear seat of their own car.

The bandits drove the McGinleys around all night, returning to the house at 7 o'clock Monday morning. After compelling Mrs. McGinley to make coffee, the bandits forced Mr. McGinley to assist in tying her to a chair in the basement.

While the woman bandit remained at the house guarding Mrs. McGinley, the male thief and McGinley went to the bank. Employees there were apprised of the situation and were told that any alarm they turned in would result in the death of the McGinleys.

After getting the money from one vault the bandit decided to leave and took McGinley with him. At the McGinley home a blast on the horn brought the woman to the car. She climbed in the back seat and kept McGinley covered with her pistol.

Apparently the employees at the bank waited until they figured Mrs. McGinley was safe and then gave the alarm, because two merchants from Hebron followed the McGinley car for several miles and exchanged shots with the bandits but couldn't keep up the pace and finally were outdistanced.

It was shortly before 10 o'clock that McGinley was able to escape from his captors. He asked the pipeline-walker to take him to the nearest town, McGinley later told Sheriff Roy Doerflinger and Deputy Sheriff Charles Timm, but the man refused. McGinley then took to the railroad tracks fearing that if he remained on the road he would be picked up if the bandits double back. He made his way to the B. & M. Lumber Co. office and got in touch with authorities. The F.B.I. is taking a hand in the case and a general alert has gone out. The male bandit is described as blonde, around 6 feet tall, weighs about 190 and was wearing Mr. McGinley's best blue suit and a pink necktie.

According to the Chicago Motor Club, more than one-half the Emergency Road Service calls in the United States last year were for tire and battery trouble. Check your tires and battery today.

Iowan to Give Views on Russia to 4-H Leaders

Charles J. Hearst, Maplehearth Farm, Cedar Falls, Ia., will be principal speaker at the 10th annual Illinois recognition meeting for volunteer 4-H club leaders on Tuesday, Nov. 22, at Springfield. Mr. Hearst will speak at the luncheon scheduled for 1 p.m. His subject will be "An Iowa Farmer's View of Russia."

Charles Hearst is a third-generation farmer. His farm is three and one-half miles southwest of Cedar Falls.

Mr. Hearst is a member of the foreign policy committee of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. He recently returned from Russia where he went as part of the American agricultural exchange group. In 1947 he was one of 22 American farmers who visited Europe in behalf of the Iowa farm bureau federation to study European needs prior to a moderate price.

Children will drink more milk in school when they can get it at a moderate price.

U. S. adoption of the Marshall Plan.

For 14 years Hearst was a director of the Chicago Producers association. In addition, he has served on the state advisory committee of agricultural extension work in Iowa, and for three years as president of his home county farm bureau. He has also been a member of the resolutions and livestock committees of the Iowa farm bureau federation.

The hottest features for '56 are in the new Chevrolet

Chevrolet never had it so good for you before... and no other car in its field even comes close. See if Chevrolet doesn't feature everything you want for '56.

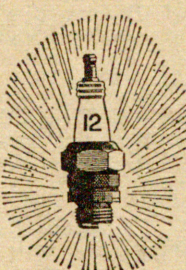

All New! The Bel Air Sport Sedan with 4 doors and no sideposts

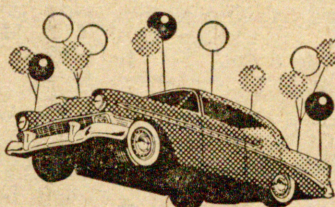

Bold new Motoramic Styling

Just look it over—the lower, longer hood... the wider grille... the big bold parking lights and the sweeping new speedline chrome treatment.

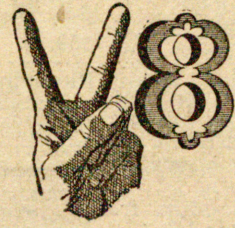

12-volt Electrical System

Packs twice the punch of ordinary 6-volt systems... spins the engine up to one-third faster when you turn the key. You get surer starting in all weather. And you have a greater electrical reserve.

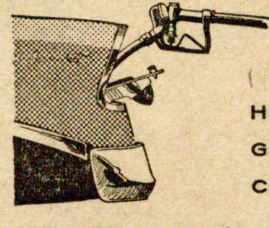

Floats over the bumps

Roads seem newly paved with Glide-Ride front suspension and outrigger rear springs soaking up the jolts. And Chevrolet performance puts your safety first!

V8 Horsepower Zooms to 205

That's the power the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" pours out (optional at extra cost in all models).

Hideaway Gas Cap

Chevrolet's left-side taillight holds a stylish secret. It's hinged at the bottom... swings down to uncover the gas cap. Closed up, the cap's concealed!

Everything In Automatic Power Features

Chevrolet offers everything you could wish for in the way of power servants! All are available as extra-cost options.

Steering made easy

Ball bearings greatly reduce friction and steering effort in Chevrolet's Ball-Race Steering.

THE HOT ONE'S EVEN HOTTER

It's the Pikes Peak Record Breaker!

That's how the '56 Chevrolet proved its championship road-action... its surer, safer driving control!

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 2841-R

November meeting of the Orland Boys 4-H club will be held at Maue school Monday evening, Nov. 14.

Maue's school directors, Ray Knieriem, Harwood Stellwagen and Ed Mrosek met in special meeting Friday evening for the purpose of discussing a proposed milk plan for the school.

The Maue school board was well represented at a meeting at Carl Sandburg High school, Nov. 1, which was held for the purpose of further discussion of high schools building needs.

Cub Scouts, den 5 of pack 218, planned their projects for November at the regular meeting in the home of den mother, Mrs. John Cruise, recently. It was decided that each boy would make a turkey out of a potatoe for Thanksgiving decoration. Tentative plans were made for the making of a leaf scrap book. It was thought each boy should make two pages for the book.

At their meeting, Nov. 3, these projects were discussed more thoroughly. Each boy gave a one minute talk on safety and Steven Kovekiss led the flag ceremony.

As the result of a letter, written by Mrs. John Cruise to Charles F. Carpenter, in Springfield, requesting material describing the State flag, each Cub Scout in den 5 has been given a book containing, descriptive, historical and illustrative data on the state seal and flag dating from the time Illinois was a territory to the present.

Cub Scouts, den 5, enjoyed a tour of Midway airport with the pack in Chicago Sunday afternoon. They were permitted to go through two of the National Guard planes, one of which was an army transport fully equipped with parachutes, etc. Donald Kohl's brother who is employed at TWA, conducted den 5 through a two motor frills on it. It is possible that, learning of his mistake, he is trying to keep it hidden until he can replace it.

A regular board meeting of the Maue PTA was held at the school Wednesday afternoon. Plans for the silent auction to be held at the regular PTA meeting were discussed.

If the Alpine housewife who has ten neighborhood helping her figure out what happened to her new formal, would look in her visiting father's duffed bag, she might find the missing gown. In a home where even the simplest article resembles a fancy what-not, who could blame him for thinking the gown, which apparently fallen from a hanegr in the bathroom, to be a bath mat with a few extra

South Cook County Girl Scouts Spend Week-End At Camp

Seventy South Cook County Senior Girl Scouts and twelve adults participated in a weekend camping trip at Camp Thorn Creek, Oct. 22-23. Plans for this weekend were initiated last May by the senior planning board which consists of two representatives from each senior troop in the council under the supervision of Mrs. Joseph Lex, board advisor and a member of the council program committee. It was one of the many events preparing the girls for the National senior roundup to be held next summer in Pontiac, Mich.

Mrs. Albert Heitmann and Mrs. Lex, coordinated the week end activities. Other staff members included: Mrs. Edward Spooner, Homewood; Mrs. Myles Conran, Mrs. Cecil Beebe, Mrs. Fred Landsea, Chicago Heights; Mrs. Walter Sutterlin, Mrs. Pebble Janisch, Evergreen Park; Mrs. Philip Tarr, Park Forest; Mrs. Arthur Vaughn, Harvey; Mrs. Ray Gerloff, Matteson; Mrs. Robert Palmer, Markham; and Mrs. George Pilz camp caretaker.

Special consultants were on hand to assist with special program skills: Mrs. Harlan Reeder, Mrs. John Gring, Homewood; Mrs. Elaine Hoeltgen, Midlothian. Highlighting the weekend was the Saturday evening campfire, when each of the troops represented, contributed a number in song, dance, original poem and pantomime depicting the history of their home.

In Columbus, Ohio a first-grade teacher was telling her class the story about the ugly troll who lived under a bridge. "Why," she asked the class, "wouldn't the old troll let the billy goats cross the bridge?" "I know," a six year old volunteered, "because you have to pay money to cross a troll bridge."

The Chicago Motor Club sends us the latest man bites dog story. In Alpena, Mich., a house ran into a car. A citizen of Alpena was moving his house when something went wrong and the house crashed into a parked car. Ever hear of a car running into a submarine? The Chicago Motor Club says it really happened recently in Detroit. After a woman parked her car on a hill, it rolled downhill and collided with the submarine "Tamber" which was tied up at a dock at the foot of the hill.

The Golden Rule

Lesson for November 13, 1955

LIVING is an art, not a science. Jesus did not come to give us a heavenly rule-book. On the other hand he did not live and die merely to provide us with tickets to heaven. For others, as for himself, he felt the tremendous importance, here and now, of this present life. He left behind him not rules but general broad principles for living in this world as sons and daughters of the Most High God. Jesus' principles were not the stuff of things that only philosophers can understand. His disciples, we know, were all men of limited education, the plainest of plain people. If Jesus had tried any theological gobbledygook on them, it would have gone clear over their heads. What he said could have carved on a postcard—any one sentence of his teachings. The one the church has nicknamed the "Golden Rule"—short, sharp, and in Jesus' own view very important—is alone worth long study.

"It's Too Hard"
Luke's version of the Golden Rule (6:31) is clear enough: "As you wish that men would do to you, do so to them." Words of one syllable, but what words! It is saddening to see how many efforts have been made to by-pass this Golden Rule. One kind of by-passers will tell you this is much too hard. Some very religious people have fancied that Jesus did not mean this for here-and-now, but only for some "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," sometime after Judgment Day. Other religious people have said that Jesus really meant to say, "You can't possibly do this,—don't you feel ashamed?" Now we can be sure of two things. One is, that Jesus was (to say the least of it) a man of common sense, an honest man. And honest men do not deliberately tell their friends to do what they know is impossible.

"It's Too Easy"
An opposite way of by-passing the Golden Rule is to think it is too easy,—that it is just a nice-sounding bit of advice that is not only easy to do but which won't do much good. For example: a little girl cries for candy. The mother thinks: What would I want her to do for me? Why, I'd want her to do as I say. So I'll do as she says—give her the candy. (And make her sick, of course.) Or again: a wife's birthday is coming along. Husband thinks: What would I want for my birthday? New power saw, of course. So he gets his wife a power saw, which she certainly does not want. . . . No, the Golden Rule is not so easy as all that. It calls for imagination, for a wide vision, for a Christian spirit. It is indeed all too easy—for fools and knaves. But Jesus assumed that his friends were neither knaves nor fools. The Golden Rule is not something to save any one the trouble of thinking. It simply points out the direction in which our actions and decisions ought to go. It often means, not—What does this person want me to do, now? but—What will this person at last wish I had done for him? In other words, if we are to apply the Golden Rule we have to look at it in the light of eternity.

"It Won't Work"
Another way of by-passing the Golden Rule is to say simply that it won't work. "It is a lovely ideal, the world would be much pleasanter to live in, for all of us, if we could live by it; but we can't, so let's get on with the practical business of dog-eat-dog, every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." Again let us remember that if Jesus had not lived by his own rule, every listener would have known him for a hypocrite and the Golden Rule would have perished in a blast of cynical laughter. It worked in Nazareth, it worked in the carpenter shop. To bring it down to our own times in America, and to take the hardest of applications of the Golden Rule,—loving your enemies. Will it work? Well, who are today the leaders in the War of the 1890's who are most widely and gratefully remembered on both sides of what once was a battle line? Lincoln and Lee, beyond much doubt. And these are the two men who most undeniably loved their enemies. The Golden Rule, in a life devoted to God and man, will work.

Taxpayers Group Begins Study of School Construction Costs

With school construction to meet increasing enrollments and to replace antiquated buildings now costing Illinois taxpayers in excess of 100 million dollars a year, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois has begun a study to determine whether taxpayers are getting their money's worth from construction costs.

Velma B. Crain, education research specialist on the Federation staff who is visiting school districts with low cost school construction, today paid a tribute to Superintendent P. L. Bolin and the school board of East Peoria elementary district 86 in Tazewell county for their economical approach to school building needs. That this approach has been from choice and not necessity is evident, Crain reports, from the fact that the school district has used only about one third of its bonding power.

Construction cost of new buildings over the period 1949-1954 have ranged from $13,800 to $28,000 per classroom, counting auditorium-gymnasium combinations as the equivalent of 4 classrooms. The building costing $28,000 per classroom included a separate sewage and deep well system. Costs per cubic foot ranged from 76c to $1.48; per square foot from $9.73 to $14.70. Costs of additions have ranged from $7,482 to $15,475 per classroom, with square foot costs ranging from $9.40 to $13.35. Costs of additions are lower because basic heating and plumbing installations were made in the original buildings.

From discussion of the adequacy and efficiency of the school buildings with principals and teachers, Crain reports that there was without exception an unusually high satisfaction.

Superintendent Bolin stated that no high pressure campaign was conducted by the school administration to secure voter approval of school building bond issues; that only facts were presented as to need. Voter approval apparently reflected confidence that needs had been carefully determined and that money would be carefully spent, Crain concluded.

company has filed to meet its contract. It is difficult for an Illinois farmer to take legal action against an out-of-state company. The best advice, therefore, is to do two things before signing a contract:

1. Make sure you are dealing with a reputable seed dealer. If necessary, write or call the county or the state department of agriculture at Springfield for information.

2. Read the contract carefully. If there are questionable clauses, ask the salesman to come back, and have the contract checked by an attorney in the meantime.

Hatreds Can Destroy Nation, Bishop Warns

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen (Paulist Feature Service)

America's greatest enemy is not from without, but from within, and that enemy is hate: hatred of races, peoples, classes, and religions. If America ever dies, it will not be thru conquest, but thru suicide.

Tolerance pleads will not remedy this hate, for why should any creature on God's earth be merely tolerated? Hate can be eradicated only by creating a new focus, and that is possible only by charity.

By charity we do not mean kindness, philanthropy, generosity, or big-heartedness, but a supernatural gift of God by which we are enabled to love Him above all things for His own sake, and in that love, to love all that He loves.

The essential quality of charity to be noted is that it resides in the will, not in the emotions or passions or senses. In other words, charity does not mean to like, but to love. Liking is in the feelings or emotions; loving is in the will.

A little boy cannot help disliking spinach, as perhaps you cannot help disliking sauerkraut, and I cannot help disliking chicken. The same is true of your reactions to certain people. You cannot help feeling an emotional reaction against the egotistical, the sophisticated, and the loud, or those who run for the first seats, or those who snore in their sleep.

But tho you cannot like everyone because you have no control over your physiological reactions, you can love everyone in the divine sense, for love, being in the will, can be commanded. As Our Lord said: "A new commandment I give unto you: that you love one another as I have loved you."

Outwardly, your neighbor may be very unlikable; but inwardly he is one in whom the image of God can be created, by the kiss of charity. You can like only those who like you, but you can love those who dislike you.

You can go through life liking those who like you without the love of God. Humanism is sufficient for those of our set, or for those who like to go slumming from ivory towers, but it is not enough to make us love those who apparently are not worth loving. To Will To Be Kind when your emotions are unkind requires a stronger dynamic than "love of humanity." To love them, we must recall that we who are not worth loving are loved by Love Himself.

Buying, Selling Seed is Business of Many Angles

Buying and selling agricultural seeds are important business transactions to many farmers. They are important from the standpoint of both economic and legal effect on the parties concerned.

Before a farmer buys certified seed, he generally reaches some kind of agreement on price, kind of seed and time of delivery. If the seed is to be delivered at a future date, a contract in writing is always advisable. If the purchase price exceeds $500, the agreement must be in writing to make it enforceable.

For the most part these simple contracts cause no trouble if the seed is adapted to the region and a reasonable price is paid for the certified seed. However, some legal difficulty is being experienced with a new kind of contract, usually called a "seed growers' agreement" or a "selling and commission agreement." Under this contract the grower buys certified seed from a company and agrees to produce certified seed on a certain number of acres. The seed company agrees to furnish the seed to the farmer (usually at a fancy price) and take a first option to buy the certified seed he produces. In some cases the company contracts to "offer for sale" the grower's seed—and a few contracts actually agree to buy all of the certified seed that is produced—at a price above the market price.

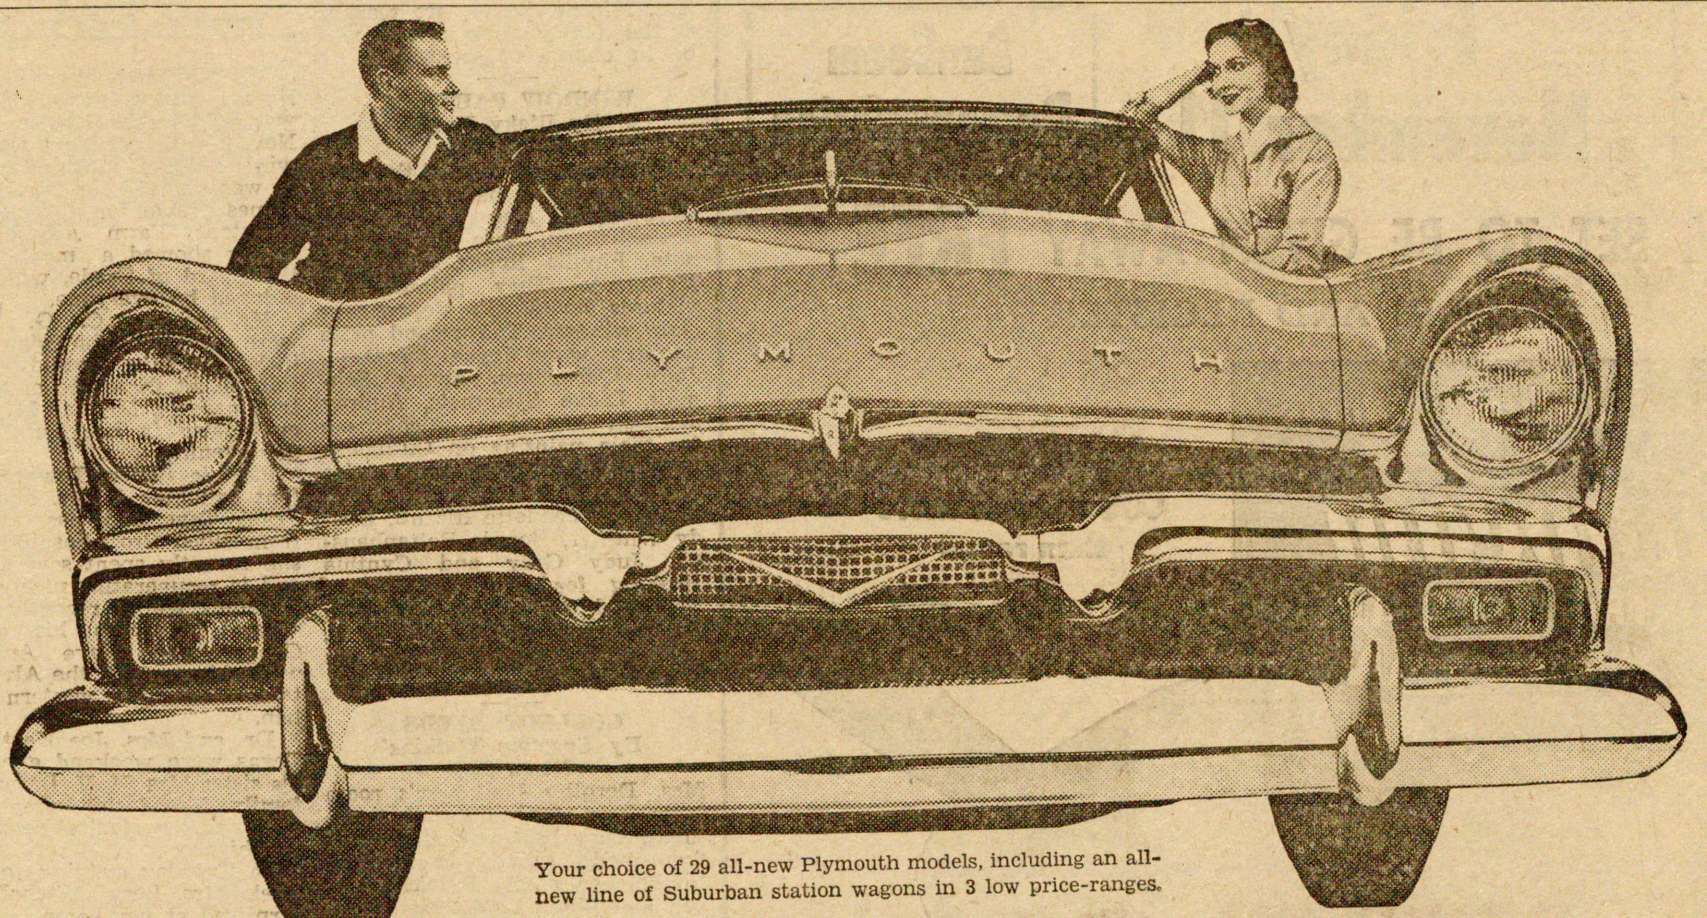

All of these contracts are probably legal and binding. The difficulty stems from these objectionable provisions in the grower contracts: (1) The seed company agrees only to "offer for sale" the grower's certified seed or to purchase the seed "if needed." In either case the company makes no guarantee either to sell the seed that is produced or to buy the seed. (2) The parts of the contract covering the seed company's responsibility to sell or buy the seed are vague and give the company a great deal of discretion. (3) The contract form commonly used by out-of-state companies is not adapted to Illinois law. For example, a contract might state that the seed must be certified by the state in Illinois. The state of Illinois does not certify seed. This obligation has been delegated to the Illinois Crop Improvement association.

Grower contracts that bind the seed company to buy all of the certified seed grown are of course more favorable to the farmer. But such contracts place notice and certification obligations on the grower that he must follow or the company can break the contract. If a farmer has not grown certified seed before, it would be advisable for him to learn the requirements from the Illinois Crop Improvement association at Urbana before signing a grower contract. At least one out-of-state seed

They Need Your CARE Help

This mother and child in Southern Vietnam, refugees from the communist north, are typical of the hungry families you can feed this Christmas by contributing $1 to CARE.

Each dollar you give covers overseas distribution costs on two CARE food packages containing a total of 28 lbs. of U.S. farm surpluses which have been waiting in storage. Two families who need that food badly will thus each receive a 14-lb. CARE food package, bearing your own name and address.

There are 1,227,500 of these CARE holiday packages for that many needy families in 31 European, Latin American and Asian countries, including Vietnam. The U. S. Government released the food from stocks not needed for U. S. welfare programs.

All donations sent to "CARE Food Crusade, 660 First Ave., New York 16, N.Y.", or any local CARE office, will be acknowledged. Donors of $5 or more will also receive receipts signed by the recipients of each package they subscribe.

The safety patrol has nearly eighty members this year. Melvin Keuch is captain and the lieutenants are Richard Wille and George Klaus. Special patrolmen at the Bert Fulton school and Dick Klepper and Warren Schluter.

Mr. De Young reports that the patrol is well equipped with belts, making members easily recognized. However, there is a shortage of raincoats. Means of adding to the supply are being investigated.
